Department Approved Discovery Training

Pursuant to the Department of Human Services Policy Transmittal ADP-PT-14-029 issued 9/12/2014, employment professionals (employment specialists) who provide Discovery must complete an ODDS approved training before delivering the Discovery Service. Approved Discovery trainings are listed below, but are not limited to these courses. These programs are listed as a guideline for learning objectives and competencies and are currently known to the Office of Developmental Disability Services to meet the requirements of delivering the discreet service of Discovery.

Provider	Program/Course Name
Oregon Employment Learning Network (OELN)	Introduction/History of Supported Employment, Discovery, and Employment Planning
Griffin-Hammis Associates	Discovering Personal Genius
Marc Gold and Associates	Discovery
Virginia Commonwealth University	Supported Employment Web-Based Certification
Training Resource Network (TRN)	Career Development (Using Principles of Discovery & Career Enhancement)
Michael Callahan	Customized Employment/Discovery/Systematic Instruction
The CSI Network (ACRE Online)	Certificate of Completion-10 hour advanced online training course in Expanding Discovery and Exploration
OTAC	Person Centered Planning for Community Employment

The training should meet the following requirements:

- The training topic/curriculum should directly relate to conducting and documenting, through the use of developing a Discovery Profile, the Discovery process. While the titles of these trainings may vary, the content addresses the concept of discovery, person centered employment planning approaches, community-based assessments, and career exploration.
- Training may be obtained online or in person sessions. The supported employment professional delivering the direct services should be the recipient of the training.
- Training should be provided by an instructor/entity using a curriculum consistent with the core competencies and standards for Discovery established by DHS.
